Eva Ng presents her plan to connect with Residents and businesses in Saint Paul

Saint Paul, Minnesota, October 2, 2009. Eva Ng presented a plan by which, as Mayor, she will work to keep in touch with the residents and business owners in Saint Paul. The Communication Plan includes quarterly listening sessions in each of the seven Saint Paul Wards as well as live online chat forums where residents can voice their opinions on a myriad of topics of interest. “An online forum will be a great tool for the people to voice their opinions directly to me. They can even do it anonymously, if they so choose,” said Ng. Additionally, Eva Ng plans to create a Citizen’s Advisory Council to help convene and streamline the charitable resources available to the residents of Saint Paul to elevate and actualize the human potential in this fair city. The final portion of the Communication Plan includes the development of a business advisory council for each of the small, medium, and large business segments in Saint Paul with up to 12 representatives selected to each council. As Mayor, Eva will hold monthly meetings with each of the three councils to received feedback as she supports and helps develop the businesses in Saint Paul, ultimately to spark prosperity and job growth in the private sector. “I will lead this city with the people’s input and together we will be an example for every city in Minnesota”, says Ng.
